BOLSHEVISM AND CONSTITUTIONAL GOVERNMENT

STRONG PRESS COMMENT AGAINST THE STRIKERS.

- London, October 4. A Conference of Trade Unions assemble'd in London this evening laiter the breakdown in the negotiations and resolved to convene on October 7" such a Conference as shall have the sanction and authority of the responsible Trade Unions of the country to engage and form moral sympathetic support for the railwaymen in the struggle they are waging for Trade Unionism. In the meantime the delegates who have been consulting the Premier will meet to formulate proposals, which they are convinced will prove acceptable to the entira Trade Union movement. Mr. O'Grady, interviewed after the Conference, said that the Committee before October 7 will try to straighten matters out between the railwaymen and the Government. He added that the isituation had not improved, but he had not lost hope.

WHAT'S BEHIND THE STRIKE?

London, October 4.

The news of the breakdown in the negotiations was received with consternation and regret.

It is understood that the Premier, at the Downing Street con-Herence, impassionately appealed to the railwaymen to accept the Toffer of arbitration, which was a new offer and, in effect, was an Roffer of an armistice, accompanied by arbitration.

Government circles are strongly of the opinion that the railway-Finen's flat refusal of the offer reveals that there is more behind the Estrike than the mere question of wages. The Conference of the Unions has adjourned until October 7. when the delegates to Downing Street will submit their proposals to the Conference.

PRESS OPINIONS.

London, October 4. The Daily Chronicle says this fatal conflict demonstrates that the strike weapon, effective against individual employers, is unsuited to employment against the State, for its use then means war.

The Daily Telegraph says the people support the Premier in nsisting on submission by the Railwaymen's Executive to the authority of the community and abandoning its claim to give orders to the Government.

The Morning Post says the issue is now plain. It is a conflict between the Bolsheviks and Constitutional Government. The Daily Mail says the indomitable spirit of the people has falsified the railwaymen sbarbarous anticipation of a starving country, but the crisis is not yet over. Meanwhile the convocation of Parliament is most urgent.

The Times says the blame for the latest rupture rests with the Railwaymen's Executive. They demanded the surrender of the Toyernment; therefore the resistance of the community to a anglorious attempt to establish some fantastic dictatorship of the proletariat will continue with increasing determination.

The Daily Express says that the acceptance of the Railwaymen's conditions vesterday would have meant the abdication of the Government. The next move lies with the other Trade Unions, and we appeal to them in such a fateful crisis not to declare a strike without a full ballot of the members of such Unions.

The Daily Herald says.—The Government's last offer is the greatest insult of all. It is the old offer with the additional suggestion that the forces of reaction shall have seven day's truce to perfect their strike-breaking organisation.

The Daily News says that it is difficult to evade the conclusion That the men have acted with no great wisdom from the viewpoint of their own interests in rejecting the Government's offer, which was a substantial advance on the Government's previous attitude, while they have gone far to deprive themselves of any justification for inflicting a grave injury on the community. The Transport Workers have rendered a further service towards peace by postponing action unitl October 7. If meanwible the Government offers are circulated throughout the country and can temperately be discussed, before any precipitate step is taken, there should still be hope of a settlement. Last night's "Downing Street communique" was an agreed

MONTAGU'S REPORT.

London, October 2. Mesers. Samuel. Montagu and Co.'s report says the tone of the market is somewhat uncertain. There is a temporary cessation of enquiry for the East, and a diminution in trade demand owing to the strike caused prices to fall heavily, but a resumption of buying for the East caused a sharp rise. Shanghai exchange is 6/3.

AN AMERICAN MOVE.

London, October 3. Latest advices from New York state that the silver producers of rupee. the United States are discussing the advantages of forming a Silver Export Association under the Webb-Pomerene Act, permitting a combination of producers and manufactures in the export trade. Senator Pittman, the author of the war Act fixing the minimum price at 101 cents per ounce, strongly advocates the plan. He believes that within a week of the formation of such a combination will be enabled to buy silver to replace the 300,000,000 silver dollars melted down, with American silver at a dollar per ounce. He examents that owing to the shortness of supplies the future for silver is asured.

Two hundred and thirty thousand dollars worth of gold has been engaged for shipment to Hongkong.

No Governor of our own, yetperhaps it is a little early before Sir Arthur's three months leave is up and people are getting a bit nervy as to the next. Having exhausted the list of possibles, including Sir John Chancellor, who is not in sufficiently good health to risk an arduous post in a deadly climate, we have had during the week a visit from one who came here some seven years ago to report on salaries and did not become a favourite in consequence. THE WAR.

GOD PERMITTED IT

The preacher at St. John's Cathedral yesterday morning was the Rev. Alec Fraser, M.C., Principal of Trinity College, Kandy, who has seen service in France, being severely wounded and gassed three times.

Preaching on the subject of

Mr. Fraser said the reason

God allowed the war.

God allowed was because He wished to purify the world and make it cleaner for His presence, God suffered. Christ suffered. His disciples suffered, therefore He could not keep us from suffering to-day, When the boys of his college at Kandy went to the war he said he would not pray that they should not be wounded or killed, but that they should not be kept out of the love of God. There was no weakness in God. He was absolutely tender true and understood all infinitely loving and exquisitely near. Garibaldi, told his men that he would not be able to give them provisions, wages or victory. but famine, forced marches or death. He called upon those who loved their country to follow him. God was the same and to those who marched behind His banner He promised to show them the mysteries of His kingdom. He wanted all not only to believein Him but to suffer with Him. People must not only see the gentleness of Christ, but also His wrath as illustrated by the driving away from the Temple of the money-changers. God was like a gentle mother who rejoiced at the temptations her son overcame. In the light of that they would see God's part in the war. Mothers had suffered for their sons in their anxiety for them every day. God's suffering was infinitely more, for He loved all the people of the earth—the Allies and the Central Powers. If they could have seen the misery at the battle-front they would have been in agony, they would have lost their senses. God saw it all and He suffered. "They had all read in the history of Judah about the dark room where no one could enter except the High Priest and that once a year. That room typified God. One day, when Christ died on Calvary, the veil of the Temple was rent from top to bottom. God had seen all and had suffred agony for their sakes. He was the power behind the world to make it better for human habitation. That was the reason why God allowed war. God Loved the world and gave His sen to die for it and they must all try to be worthy of the sacrifice.

EX-OFFICERS IDLE. 15,000

FRUITLESS

The almost unbelievable difficulties which an ex-officer encountered in looking for work described to a Daily Chronicle representative recently by a member of the newlyformed Ex-Officers' Union.

The union is about to open branches all over the country in the effort to find work for some of the 15,000 ex-officers now unemployed.

The ex-officer interviewed by the Daily Chronicle representative is 30 years of age, and has a distinguished military record. He was mentioned in dispatches, and his Army testimonials speak in the highest possible terms of his efficiency and character. was his six months fruitless quest for work which induced him to join the union and to help in its efforts to organise adequately all ex-Service men who have held commissions.

Here is this officer's story, told in his own words:-

"I came down from Oxford 18 months before the war, after taking my degree, I spent that year and a half in European travel, getting a knowledge of economic conditions in several countries and improving my knowledge of languages.

"Then the war came, and immediately volunteered. I was a junior subaltern for a month, a senior subaltern for three months and was then made a captain and ultimately adjutant to a new battalion.

EQUERRY TO ROYALTY.

"I went out with an expeditionary force, where I eventually became garrison adjutant and, ipso facto, staff officer.

"I was attached as a kind of equerry to Royalty in an expedition of seven weeks' duration; then I went to G.H.Q. and finally became personal military secreary to one of the most famous Generals of the war.

"I want to point out that I had no influence behind me. When I took my commission I knew nothing of military life; it was entirely by my own efforts that I got promotion and was in the end attached to General-

I was demobilised in Exeter in February of this year, and was quite sure that I should be able to work my way up in civilian life as I had done in the Army. I didn't expect to begin at the top; I was quite willing to go slow at

"I at once registered at the Labour Bureau, and then came up to London, and had by name taken at Horrex's. The only job which I was ever offered through Horrex's I found occupied on application.

"I wrote seven times to Horrex's, but received no reply, and, deciding that it was absolutely useless to get anything through them. I made up my mind to depend entirely on my own efforts.

"I know very many wellknown people, and could have asked them to use their influence on my behalf, but I hated the idea of doing that.

SPENT POUNDS IN STAMPS. "I spent my gratuity in ordinary living expenses, wearing all my pre-war clothes, which had carefully kept. spent pounds in stamps postage, for I answered hundreds of advertisements, and did not get a single reply. I spent pounds in advertising, too, and the only people who answered were 'sharks' who wanted me to invest money in rotten

PROTEST AGAINST HARSH TREATMENT.

We call the following from the Japan Chronicle:---"The opinion has already been expressed in these columns that the confiscation of private property is in any case an outrage against international law. But there are degrees of confiscation. Suppose a Berlin dye works maintained a branch manufactory in Japan, a German pottery had a tion in Ceylon, it would be against international law confiscate them; but it is this sort of thing which the Allies had in view when they decided to create this very dangerous precedent. They did not have in view, and have not acted as though they had in view, the attachment of a German resident's house, or office furniture. or banking account. Now that the war is over and peace signed German and Austrian residents in Britain or America can do what they like with their personal belongings, and can pursue their own business. German commercial travellers, it is said. are in England again and English travellers in Germany, and there is free buying and selling. But not so in Japan. A few weeks ago a short list was published of experts in various lines for whom some Japanese manufacturers interested had provided posts. Japanese are rushing at German trade. But the German

"This sort of thing naturally reacts on the Japanese themselves. It is all very well for the big firms who can send their own ships to Germany, and open their own offices in Germany with German employees; but the smaller merchants and manufacturers who would like to do some German trade find themselves unable, because the men who could do it for them are not allowed to. It is possible. of course, that the present treatment of Germans in Japan has been deliberately contrived by the big concerns which want to have "direct trade" and a monopoly in direct trade. If so it might be pointed out that, by stopping up avenues of trade. Japan will lose fair more that the five or six paltry millions of yen she might gain by selling up every German in the country. The thing may also be regarded in the light of a direct breach of faith. When Japan declared war on Germany Marquis Okuma issued a proclamation promising freedom and security for enemy subjects who abided quietly and obeyed the laws. For a long time thereafter there existed every facility for the Germans to transfer themselves and their property to the United States or other neutral country, where they could enjoy at least the right to work for a living and to spend their own money in any legitimate manner. They relied however, on the Premier's wordand this is the result! The deportations from China were a still grosser breach of faithcommitted under Allied compulsion. Of course, if the Japanese Government can show that in its present procedure it is acting under pressure, like China, it can save its reputation at the cost of present deliberations in the Home Office will be a prompt revision of policy. It is most likely, as already stated, that the highest authorities do not themselves know how the orders they have issued are being misinterpreted by subordinates who do not understand their spirit and intention. It seems a great pity that in a war where Japan began by showing an enlightened example to all her Allies she should, through more misapprehension.

PROGRESSIVE PROPAGANDA.

There were very few sincere writers and publicists who during the progress of the war did not express the hope that with the coming of peace there would be closed the existing period of imperialistic world-politics and that in its stead there would be commenced an enlightened period for culture-politics more truly in accord with the highest interests of humanity. Men, more generally, began to see the error of antagonistic nationalism and, whilst realising that nationalism in its better parts "had to be preserved and kept inviolate, had the conclusion forced upon them that internationalism would be the one thing that would effect the stabilising CABLE DELAYS. of world-wide human relations. This idea has had very recent expression in the formation of the League of Nations and there has been a tremendous literary output dealing with the subject. But. one of the essential requisites to keep the world at peace and, ever more important, bring about a helpful co-operation, is a fuller understanding between the peoples themselves, and it has been recognised that it will have to be through the medium of the world's Press that such will be brought about. In war, the peoples of the various countries had their enthusiasms fired and their sacrifices made more glorious by their daily perusal of patriotic propaganda, and so it will be that now strife is over and there is a real need to counteract the passions reared in times of danger, the dissemination of a kindlier spirit will be achieved by giving wide publicity to the ideals of internationalism.

In this connection it is pleasing to note that there is now being published at the Hague a newspaper entitled The World which to restrict messages, as far as has for its object the bringing about of a better understanding possible, to those of an urgent between all mankind. That certainly is a very ambitious thing to work for, and the means by which it is hoped to achieve its purpose is by publishing contributions from writers in every land. is, however, obvious that remedies Articles by French, German, Swiss, Dutch, Italian, American and British writers appeared in the first issue, and this may be judged a very hopeful send-off. But what will be of even more value than these contributions will be the world press section of the journal containing extracts from foreign papers—in Saturday we published some immost cases in a different language from that in which the matter originally appeared. A writer, when writing for his own people, is generally more candid than he would be if he were writing for pire Press Union, which include foreign consumption, and thus the value of the translated matter is the provision of further cable lines, infinitely greater than the contributed. " Inasmuch as the movement is quite a new one and only in the nature of an experiment, it will be generally hoped that considerable support will be given to it, for messages and inordinately long into an important port in rivalry intrinsic and nominal values of It was difficult to put Taking the dollar at 2/-, the rent even the most unimaginative can realise what great notantialities messages and inordinately long into an important port in rivalry intrinsic and nominal values of It was difficult to put Taking the dollar at 2/-, the rent even the most unimaginative can realise what great notantialities messages and inordinately long into an important port in rivalry intrinsic and nominal values of It was difficult to put in double that paid at even the most unimaginative can realise what great potentialities reports of speeches. Newspaper such a journal must have. In the world of the future, if ever the human race is going to work out its own high destiny, the present East will readily endorse these tenaciously held traditions will be superseded by faith, which will humanise all work, give greater security to life and open up new spheres of activity. To bring into active unity peoples who would the mysterious ways of Reuter, otherwise be unknown to one another is the very high aim of this newly-launched journal, and as its contents will be published in no less than three different languages it should have a very wide publicity. Together with the announcement that the paper is at present a weekly one comes the expressed hope that soon a daily edition will be possible having an entirely new and independent use of this means of communica-

The ratification of the Peace Treaty, together with the new understanding with Britain and the United States, by the French Chamber is an event of first importance. For many weeks have the members of the Chamber been discussing and analysing the Treaty, and now, by an overwhelming majority, they have given it their endorsement. There was a feeling in some circles that the peace terms did not China since the signing of Peace go far enough, for France still feels that Germany is not to be trusted and that, though defeated in this war, she means to seize every opportunity for the "taking of revenge. Although there is a distinct improvement in the cable service, in the sense that the delays are not so marked as they were a few months ago, normal conditions do not yet prevail. The Settlement was one of the heaviest within recent years, due principally to the rash gambling in Indo-Chinas, Wharves and Docks. This speculation in futures is a very unhealthy sign and unless the fever is restricted we may witness a crop of bankruptcies. The Keswick Ordinance made illegal dealings in stocks and shares for a future date unless the numbers of the scrip were mentioned. The brokers cleverly defeat ends by mentioning in their contracts that the numbers by mutual consent are not stated inneeded, which will lay down that, mutual consent to the contrary or not, every forward share contract must stipulate the numbers of the shares that are bought and sold on the Stock Exchange. Indiscrimate gambling on the Stock Exchange exercises a baneful effect on the trade of the Country and we in Hongkong are desirous of avoiding any such occurrence. An amended ordinance will be such result.

AQUATICS. FINE RACING AT V.R.C.

The concluding programme of events in connection with the annual aquatic sports of the Victoria Recreation Club took place at the V.R.C., on Saturday afternoon in the presence of a big crowd. J. SCOTT HARSTON.

People who reside in the Tropics, or in any part where Malaria prevails, should avoid going out before the sun has dispelled the morning mists, and also before they have breakfasted. The reasons for this are that the vapours which arise from the earth during the night are frequently malarious, and the system unfortified by the morning meal is especially susceptible to this poison.

A WARNING TO EARLY RISERS.

The only real safeguard against Malaria, however, is pure rich blood. And when Malaria has entered the system the only method of driving it out is by purifying and enriching the blood. For both these purposes the one proved specific is the World-famous blood tonic Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The testimony of innumerable cured sufferers from Malaria has established the fact that these Pills are a permanent remedy. Their action is prompt, they begin to purify and build-up the blood from the first dose. And as rapidly as the blood gains strength so it expels the Malaria parasites until the whole system is cleansed, strengthened and rejuvinated.

Try them yourself and prove their efficacy. Not only are they invaluable for Malaria, but L. Franco and in the veterans maemia. Debility, Nervousness, race Kelly went ahead at the Indigestion. RESUSCITATION OF ATLANTIC SHIPPING.

London, Sept. 12.—The Cunard Steamship Line is embarking on a building programme of half a million tonnage. Orders have Swatow. already been placed for ships averaging 20,000 tons, equipped for using oil fuel.

TON FOR TON.

Berlin, Sept. 10.-Mr. Heineken. the Director-General of the Norddeutscher Lloyd, in a discussion of the future of German shipping in the company's year book, says that besides the direct effects of the Peace Treaty, the indirect consequences will be ultimately fatal to German shipping. These include a partial foreign control of the Rhine navigation, a wholly foreign control of the Vistula, diminution of Germany territory, transference of industries in Alsace-" Lorraine and the consequent diversion of traffic to the French and Belgian ports, renunciation of the Entente's damages and the decision that the German property abroad should be reckoned at the pre-war rate of exchange. Mr. Heineken concludes that it would be foolish to deny that the ton-for-ton policy ruthlessly carried out in the Peace Treaty has struck German shipping to the marrow.

KOBE SHIPPING RETURNS.

The Japanese shipping trade. home and foreign, which was exceptionally active during the war, is now reported to be somewhat dull. During last month the total number of vessels which arrived at Kobe was 1,218, with a total tonnage of 1,388,779, while clearances numbered, 1,204, with a total tonnage of 1,348,582. Of these, ships under the Japanese flag represented 1,079,-350 tons, 517,420 tons (944 vessels) being in the coast-wise service, and 561, 930 tons (217 vessels) in the foreign service. During the month 54 foreign vessels, (308,600 tons) 'arrived here. As compared with the corresponding month of last year, these figures show a decrease of 70 in the number of Japanese vessels entered, and a total tonnage-of 50,321 tons; and an increase of 36 in the number of foreign vessels, with a total tonnage of 233,385 tons. Three times as many foreign vessels arrived with August, 1918.

HAMBURG INDIA LINE.

The report that no less than three British steamship companies are to start services running between. Hamburg and India is very interesting. The Hunhates' blood has ceased to boil at the contemplation of a resumption of German trade with a quite standard trade with a qu that it would, but it is of no little interest to notice this action on the part of British companies for providing new facilities for reopening the big trade formerly done between Germany and India. It is, in a sense, capturing the late enemy's trade which was formerly done by the Norddeutscher Lloyd, but it is at the same time opening the Indian market to German competition both in buying and selling. The entire freedom with which the Germans traded in British Dominions overseas before the war was one of the most effective answers to the complaint of the German lack of of a place in the sun, and, when such inroads are being made by find, in this important matter, that the freedom appears not only to be left intact. but to be upheld by British ships. Japanese manufacturers will yiew the matter in a very different light, no doubt, as this new development threatens the new trade in cheap goods which they have found so profitable in India during the war, but they have no grounds for complaint, as they have plentiful facilities for promoting the trade. Indeed, judging by the freight war on the Indo-Japanese run which was fought a few years ago, Japan considers her facilities for this trade somewhat excessive.

THE RAILWAY STRIKE.

London, Oct 3. The executive of the Vehicle Workers' Union discussed the situation at midnight and afterwards announced that buses, trams and taxicabs would run to-day. Meetings of members of the Union have been arranged for midnight on. Friday to consider action.

The President of the Board of Agriculture has appealed to farmers to thresh immediately all the wheat possible and transport it to local mills with the object of rendering the bread position safe and adequately providing feeding stuffs.

The railwaymen were not represented at the conferences with the Premier yesterday. The attitude of the Railwayseen's Executive last evening was that their effort at bridgebuilding had failed and it must be left to other unions to decide their own action. The Miners' Federation was represented for the first time at last night's conference of trade unions, Mr. Hodges being present. The sole remaining hope of removal of the deadlock is that this conference will make a final effort to bring the parties together, but there was little evidence last night when the conference adjourned that the members were hopeful of the success of their efforts at mediation. The Premier's insistence on resumption remains an obstacle to negotiations. The railwaymen's leaders refuse to admit that they are beaten and feel that ordering the men back without some definite assurance would be construed as an admission of defeat. They recognise however that public epinion is against them. Hence they are striving by vigorous propaganda, advertisements, leaflets, articles and interviews to convert public opinion to their view, but the consensus of the newspapers is that efforts at conversion are more likely to be successful if the men resume as the public resent a pistol held at its head. There is no doubt the Government's efforts to mitigate public inconvenience, backed up by thousands of enthusiastic volunteers of all classes from peers to artisans, has been most successful, at least in the case of London where not merely more trains are running but the food supply is so good that the Ministry of Food has announced that canned meat need no longer be rationed. One London station alone received by train and despatched to destinations two thousand churns of milk resterday. Twelve hundred tons of potatoes were brought to London by Great Northern trains yesterday, but tons of herrings were thrown overboard at Inverness owing to lack of transport. The Federation of British Industries, after consultation with Government departments concerned, has taken measures to keep works going by the adoption of half-time and an elaborate system of co-operation by the factories, at the same time minimising distress by paying an unemployment donation where unemployment is inevitable, and supplying discharged men with fuel. Another remarkable outgrowth of the strike is the impetus given to the coasting services which have been languishing in recent years. The offices of the District Transport Committees in London and other ports have been besieged by shippers of cargo. It is announced that Southampton and Plymouth, for the first time since the ports were closed by the war, are available for coastwise traffic in foodstuffs.

provincial ports have all their tonnage space requisitioned. The canals have also had a fresh lease of usefulness. The Ministry of Transport in France has placed its service at disposal and circularised barge owners, urging them to concentrate their efforts to bring coal from the mines and also foodstuffs to the industrial districts by means of the canals. The response is most satisfactory. Barges long idle and in Sad repair are now in full use by ex-officers and men experienced on the canals of Flanders. But the outstanding feature of the strike has been the triumph of the motor lorry and the prompt collection and distribution of foodstuffs by road convoys has brought home to the people the value of - transport more even than the more gigantic success of _ '- lorry in the war. It is not expected that the the mose goods by road will seriously affect the railways conveyance is no doubt that a motor transport service in future, but there "lways will be developed. Altogether there is more significance than the speaker wished to convey in a remark made by one of the transport workers' delegates after the interview with the Preme, yesterday: "We are still hopeful Mr. Lloyd George stiffened to-day because he trought he was winning." Indeed, according to labour correspondents the tone of the deputation to the Premier has been most mild. Their chief anxiety was to prevent a Appropriate strike and men like Williams and Bevan, hitherto regarded as extremists, have played a notable part as peacemakers. Hence it is nowise certain that a sympathetic strike will be declared at to-day's conference at Caxton Hall.

Services now operating between London and sixteen

Official: Up to 11.30 a.m. the men's representatives had not renewed applications for an interview with the Prime Minister. Railway traffic has markedly improved and goods trains particularly continue to numerically increase. More men are resuming. The general machinery of distribution . is running more smoothly daily and retailers of food stocks have maintained a satisfactory level. A deputation of eleven representing the unions again met the Premier at Downing Street in the morning and made a further effort at settlement prior to the full meeting of the unions concerned in the afternoon. Mr. Thomas declares that the eleven unanimously support the railwaymen's refusal of the Government's demand for resumption of work before negotiations. At the conclusion of the Downing Street conference Mr. Browlie, the Engineers' representative on the deputation, stated that the position was much easier. The deputation proceeded to the railwaymen's headquarters and is possibly returning to Downing Street later.

Official: Replying to a telegraphic inquiry by the Editor of the "Liverpool Express" Mr. Lloyd George wired that every man who returns to work immediately will be reinstated and receive the back pay due to him.

Military have taken over Euston Station. The Great Western announce that strikers are resuming work all over the system. Present indications are that the second week-end of the strike will find a completed programme of about five thousand trains daily throughout the country. Isolated cases of sabotage are reported, but generally the police authorities declare that molestation is conspicuously absent. His Majesty is returning to London from Balmoral by motor. The conference of unions was made more representative this afternoon by the inclusion of other unions including the Miners' Pederation. A full meeting of Ministers, presided over by Mr. Lloyd George, unanimously supported the Premier's statement that no negotiations could be entered into with the Executive of the Railwaymen's Union before the Union ordered the strikers to resume work.

The Federation of British Industries reports that at the end of the first week of the strike the general state of employment and industry appears to be excellent. There is little -cessation of production except in industries where huge stocks of coal and material are necessary. A serious fall of production is not expected for some time. The majority of the textile firms can carry on full time for a considerable time.

3.048 trains were scheduled to run to-day excluding over 300 underground and tube trains. Over 400 goods trains will The Food Controller states that supplies of fresh meat have increased. Supplies of fish and potatoes are better than expected. Distribution of sugar is difficult but retailers have Abser replenished with supplies of butter, cheese, margarine mad tinned foods. PRESIDENT WILSON IN DANGER

Washington, Oct. & ...

President Wilson's physician has summoned a nerve specialist for consultation. Though this is announced as merely a precautionary measure and the President's condition is described as not alarming last night's bulletin says "President Wilson is a very sick man."

After two hours' consultation a bulletin was issued at noon that President Wilson was unchanged. Philadelphia's neurologist, Dr. Dercum, who examined President Wilson on Thursday, is of opinion that his condition is grave.

FIGHTING THE BOLSHEVIKS

London, Oct. 3. A Polish military mission has arrived at General Denikin's headquarters at Taganrog with the object of forming a Polish alliance with General Denikin.

Polish troops supported by tanks have occupied Dunaburg on the south bank of the Dvina. They took prisoner seven hundred and captured much war material.

The deputation, accompanied by Mr. Stuart Bunning M.P., and Mr. Bowerman, returned to Downing Street at five o'clock. The Railwaymen's Executive arrived there a quarter of an hour later, apparently in the best of spirits. Mr. Clynes and Mr. Sexton left Downing Street at 7.15 and proceeded to the conference of the unions. Mr. Clynes in an interview said the position was very much easier.

The general exemplary conduct of the strike hitherto has been marred by ugly incidents. A train from Bristol to Paddington this morning narrowly escaped wrecking near Swindon owing to a rail-and a large piece of timber being fixed to the rails. The train smashed the obstruction. Several cases of savage attacks on volunteer workers are reported. Vitriol was thrown at a volunteer at Clapham whose eyes may be permanently injured. The conference of the Railwaymen's Executive and the deputation of eleven with the Premier at Downing Street was broken off at nine in the evening. Mr. Thomas said no settlement had been reached and he had nothing further to say. A Downing Street official message says: The Railwaymen's Union rejected the Government offer of arbitration, also the seven days' truce suggested by the Government. The Government has appealed for a citizen army to meet the crisis. A Downing Street official message says: The series of meetings of the Premier and Mr. Bonar Law, which commenced on 1st. inst. at the instance of the deputation of trade unionists headed by Mr. Gosling; ended this afternoon. The Government on 2nd, proposed the following as a basis on which negotiations could be continued.—Firstly, upon the strikers returning to work negotiations should be taken up where they were broken off on the 26th September; secondly, according to the Premier's offer of the 26th September the Government guarantee that there will be no reduction of wages until the SIst March. 1920, and any time after 31st. Dec., 1919, they will be ready to discuss in view of the circumstances then existing a possible extension of that date; thirdly, the Government is prepared to discuss with the railwaymen any unfairness or hardship affecting any particular grade of workmen through the operation of the scheme of standardisation already proposed by the Government and to consider any anomaly as between various grades in the application of the per centage of increase proposed to each grade; fourthly, in the event of failure to agree on any question arising out of the matter mentioned in paragraph three, the point of difference shall be referred to arbitration.

The National Union of Railwaymen refused these terms. At this morning's meeting the Premier proposed a truce of the strike for a few days in order that negotiations might be resumed. The Railwaymen's Union agreed but only if the Government was prepared to work out the basis of standardisation which should operate similarly to various grades as in the case of those grades for which a settlement was effected. The Government rejected this proposal because the grades referred to were settled as claimed by the railwaymen on their special merits and on the understanding that the other grades now in dispute would be treated on their merits and because. the demand now made was only a repetition of the original scheme which had already been declined. The Premier then made the following counter-proposals .- The Government is prepared to agree to a truce of seven days counting from the full resumption of work in order to discuss: firstly, the period of standardisation of wages and, secondly, any alleged unfairness or hardship affecting any particular grade of workmen through the operation of the scheme of standardisation already proposed by the Government and any anomalies as between various grades in the application of the per-centage of increase proposed for each grade. In the event of failure to agree upon any question arising out of the matters mentioned in firstly and secondly the Government was prepared to submit the disputed questions to arbitration. The Premier further indicated that if the railwaymen returned to work on this basis arrears of wages would be paid to them. If at the end of five days after full resumption of work the representatives of the men concluded that negotiations could not be brought to a satisfactory issue they should undertake to give forty-eight hours' notice before any cessation of work occurred. If negotiations were again broken off the men should. agree to hand over all plant in good working order and run all trains to destination, the men should agree to work harmoniously with the railway servants who remained or returned to work and the Railway Executive should agree to undertake that there would be no victimisation by the strikers. The National Union of Railwaymen rejected this proposal and the Conference terminated.

The following is the text of an appeal to citizens.—"In the opinion of the Government the circumstances of the present crisis are such that special measures should be taken to secure the liberty of all peaceable citizens and to protect them in the pursuit of their ordinary work and special work undertaken to maintain the supply of food and the other necessaries of the community. The numbers of the regular police forces and the existing small forces of special constabulary are insufficient for this purpose. The Government therefore invite all Lords Lieutenant, Lord Mayors, Mayors, Chairmen of County Councils, Chairmen of Standing Joint Committees and Watch Committees, Chief Constables, Town Clerks and other local officers to take steps for the formation in all counties, cities and boroughs of citizen guards to undertake to act in co-operation with the police in the duty of the protection and maintenance of order. They request that in each county, city and borough the officers above named should form forthwith a committee for the organisation and recruitment of such citizen guard. If the food and existence of the nation are to be safeguarded in the face of the menace by which they are confronted to-day it is essential that all citizens who are willing to contribute labour should be allowed to do so without interference or apprehension. The Government therefore appeals to all well affected men to come forward in order that they may assist to preserve and guarantee the security of those without whose continued and unmolested exertions the life of the nation cannot be maintained."

THE MARINE MOTOR WITH POWER TO SPARE

GENERAL DESCRIPTION

This motor is a four cycle, four cylinder L head type motor. In general appearance it is compact and clean cut, yet there has been incorporated the greatest degree of accessibity for such adjustments as daily service requires. Careful design and manufacture under the most rigid system of inspection and final test ensures a motor of extreme refinements, that is quiet, smooth running and powerful with the added and very important feature of economy of operation. The large valves, free intake and exhaust passages and carefully balanced and light weight reciprocating parts make this motor unusually powerful at the slow speeds as well as the higher speeds up to 1400 R.P.M. There is no unpleasent vibration at the high speeds.

In order that this motor shall stand up and have endurance under severe conditions, there have been provided liberal proportions of such feature as bearing area, water jacket volume and connecting rod & crank shaft strength. Lubrication is direct and positive. The use of accurately graduated, helical timing gears and entirely enclosed and lubricated push rods, valve springs, etc., make one of unusual silence in operation, 4 MODELS IN STOCK-14 TO 40 HORSE POWER

BANKING SERVICE WITH AMERICA DIRECT AND PERSONAL

E XPORTERS or importers now engaged in, or thinking of, trade with America would do well to consider not only the special nature of our facilities, but also the personal interest we take in every one of our customers' transactions.

First of all, we offer direct banking service—without intermediary dealings, or unnecessary delays.

Equally important is our personal service. Every transaction is followed, through, both here and in America, by our own representatives with a personal interest, the value of which is evident in the service rendered.

May we talk with you about America?
